InnoBioPlast2016: Smart Bioplastics: Prospects and Challenges for Future Bio-economy

September 15-16, 2016
Bangkok International Trade & Exhibition Centre (BITEC), Thailand

Context
InnoBioPlast is the international conference and exhibition on bioplastics and biobased technological development and businesses initiated by the National Innovation Agency (NIA) since 2006. The 5th InnoBioPlast Conference, held in 2013 under the theme "InnoBioPlast2013: Advance Bioplastics and New Era of Biobased Business", co-organized by the NIA and the Thai Bioplastic Industry Association (TBIA) and attended by more than 1,000 visitors, showcased presentations from more than 30 world renowned speakers on topics ranging from new global innovation and technology and their impact on the world bioplastics industry, as well as guidelines on future trends and investment opportunities.

Building on this success, the 6th InnoBioPlast Conference, “InnoBioPlast 2016: Smart Bioplastics: Prospects and Challenges for Future Bio-economy”, co-organized by TBIA, the Plastics Institute of Thailand (PITH), National Innovation Agency (NIA), the National Research Council of Thailand (NRCT), and the Petroleum Institute of Thailand, will focus on the commercial application of forefront R&D and innovation in the production and use of biochemical, bioplastic and their finished products, as well as the assessment of current and future prospects of local and global bio-industry and bio-economy.

The InnoBioPlast2016 expects to welcome more than 20 keynote speakers from leading global business and industry executives in biochemical/bioplastics production, processing machinery manufacturers, raw material suppliers, technology providers, traders and government officers, and more than 500 distinguished delegates.
